

Human Landscapes

www.gaetanobelverde.it

The sinuous shapes of the feminine body have always painted landscapes in my mind.

It is the roundness of the shapes that appear from the shadows of my memories, that bewitch me...

This work originates as a research into my inner nature, and the desire to fix my thoughts on paper.

I chose very few ingredients in order to do it: just light, and shapes.

I didn't want to show off the nude n the contrary, I have combined it with tender postures, intimate and warm just like the true feelings.

This is the reason why I choose the soft light to draw the shapes.

It's a great challenge, to give justice to the beauty of the feminine body -such a blaze of harmony.

A tribute to Woman, tender and extremely passionate lover at the same time.

Woman that is capable of giving you perfect happiness and then in a flash, can deny you even your same will to live...

Dedicated to my Muse:

Dreams

During the night, when I start to dream

I think to your sweet slopes of your rosy hills

Pleasant dwellings for the senses

Warms and never replete with cuddles

I think of your sinuous shapes trembling like a torment of the heart

And during the dream I kiss you on and for a long time

tenderly...
Covering you in a love veil

Torment and obsession of the unconscious...
